(U) San Rafael – ‘Sovereign Citizen’ Boater Tased, Arrested After Injuring Officer

(U) An officer in a patrol boat along the San Rafael Creek canal waterway near a yacht harbor in San Rafael spotted David Moses, 51, allegedly trying to get away in a small boat. Moses guided his boat into the yacht harbor, where another officer found him walking onto a dock and tried to detain him for alleged illegal mooring and anchoring, according so San Rafael police. Police said in a news release, "Moses claimed that he was a sovereign citizen and was not subject to the law." After allegedly becoming "uncooperative" and refusing to follow the officer's instructions, Moses allegedly pushed past the officer, "became physically combative and fought with the officer," Police said.

(U) District of Columbia – FBI Urges Athletes to Leave Phones at Home Ahead of Beijing Games

(U) Washington – The FBI is urging Olympic athletes to leave their personal cell phones at home and instead take burner phones to the Beijing Winter Olympics this month, citing the potential for "malicious cyber activities." The warning comes amid rising concerns by US national security officials about Chinese espionage and intellectual property theft. While not aware of "any specific cyber threat against the Olympics" the FBI added that it's important that those at the games be "vigilant and maintain best practices in their network and digital environments."

(U) District of Columbia – FBI Identifies Six Juveniles as Persons of Interest in HBCU Bomb Threats

(U) Washington – Six juveniles have been identified as persons of interest by the FBI in threats to historically Black colleges and universities (HBCU). A law enforcement official says the FBI has identified six persons of interest around the country, all juveniles, who are suspected of making the threats. The official says they appear to be "tech savvy," using sophisticated methods to try to disguise the source of the threats, which appear to have a racist motivation. More than a dozen HBCUs received bomb threats earlier this week.
